LEARN HOW REALLY EXCELLENT OUR TAILORING HAS BECOME

THREE WEEKS TO DECORATION DAY
Order Your Suit Now

You'll look so much better Decoration Day if your suit is tailored to order. Let us measure you now, giving ample time for two painstaking fittings. The superior style, perfection of fit and pleasing grace of our clothes make almost magical improvements in any man's appearance, yet the cost is no more than for Readymades. At $20 we give surprisingly rich, silk-mixed worsteds in good seasonable patterns and weights for which other reliable tailors must ask $8 to $10 more.

Other Suits at $15-$17.50-$25

Tailored-to-Measure

Readymades are more unsatisfactory this season than ever. Years ago, with loose, full clothes, an approximate fit might do, but form-fitting clothes of today must be cut precisely to body dimensions and carefully fitted. The popular Pinch Back coat is one that can't be right unless tailored to measure.

HOW WE DO IT

First—We have nineteen stores in as many cities and contract direct with Woolen Mills for materials, often at our own price. This lets us give you all Wholesaler's profits. When we start a suit we are $10 ahead of any other tailor.

Second—We have perfected a tailoring organization that enables us to give individual fitting service to every garment cut.

How an occasional half glass of Lash's Bitters does banish the glooms and depression caused by constipation, indigestion and headache!

First, the system freed from the poisons of constipation; then the glorious feeling of easy working digestion, clear head and keen appetite. And the big comfort is that Lash's does its work without reaction or nausea. Lash's is more than a laxative; because its tonic properties strengthen while it works.

SIGN DILLON TO MEET MORAN
FOR BIG PURSE

New York, May 12.—Unless all signs fail, Frank Moran and Jack Dillon will be matched within the next few days, possibly today, for an open air bout some time between Decoration Day and July 4. Half of the match was closed yesterday, when Sam Marburger, manager of Dillon, signed articles of agreement with the Washington Park Sports and Amusement club. Dillon is to receive $10,000, with an option of 25 per cent. of the gross receipts.

No definite date is named, the articles saying "on or about June 26." To protect themselves against the possibility of Moran's refusing to make terms the promoters inserted a clause that in that event they would be allowed to name some other opponent for the Indianapolis Giant Killer, with the understanding that the winner of the bout would box Jess Willard at the old Federal League park in September. The capacity of the outdoor plant is 30,000, with 20,000 in the regular grand stand and bleachers and 10,000 seated on the lawn.

Harry Pollock who has been most active in matchmaking for the new club, turned his attention to Moran today. He will have to go much higher to get the Pittsburgher in line. Tom O'Rourke announced yesterday that he wants the Moran-Dillon bout so badly he is willing to give Moran a flat guarantee of $25,000, or $17,000 and a percentage privilege.

SHUTOUT GAMES

It was forty-one years ago today, May 12, 1875, that the first shutout game was played by professional baseball clubs. The Chicago club of the old National Association, the forerunner of the National league, pulled the trick, winning by a score of 1 to 0 from St. Louis on the grounds of the latter club. In the following year Bradley of St. Louis, in a game against Hartford, twirled the first no-hit game in professional baseball, not a single Hartford player reaching the initial bag.

The longest 1 to 0 game in the big leagues was played in 1882, Providence winning from Detroit in eighteen innings. The most one-sided shutout game of big league annals was in 1883, when Providence won from Philadelphia by a score of 28 to 0. The longest string of shutout games amassed by any major league club was that of the Pirates in 1903. They shut out New York, Boston and Philadelphia in six consecutive games, not a solitary opposing player crossing the plate for fifty-six consecutive innings.

DOBARD SAYS HE WON'T

LEAVE SOUTHERN HOME

Although they threatened him with suspension unless he reported, Shortstop Dobard of Mobile has absolutely refused to report to Bridgeport. Owner Knorr received a wire this morning from the Mobile club. Dobard claims Bridgeport is too far from his southern home so he will not come here. Bridgeport had accepted Dobard's terms for the purchase of Dobard but in view of his latest statement they will probably turn him back to Mobile.

Meanwhile they will try to close one of their pending deals for another shortstop. They may get Wright from Toronto in exchange for Byrne or they may be able to induce Smykal to leave his outlaw job in Warren, Pa., and come here. An outfielder and another pitcher may also be expected next week.

Yesterday's victory in Lowell indicated that Manager Ball is getting the club into the proper swing. It won't take but a few changes to make a first division club out of the present squad.

Pitcher Bill Martin will never stay in the Eastern league if he continues to pitch such bright ball for Bridgeport. Three victories, two of which were shutouts, comprise his record so far.

The Bridgeport club has some heady base runners now. Manager Ball, Al Odell and Jake Boutles are all clever on the paths. Jake is not so fast as the other two but he knows when to run and when to stop.

Billy Hamilton's Worcester team, which is one of the few Eastern aggregations to get a victory over New London this season, will be the attraction at Newfield park, Sunday. Manager Ball hopes to use Bill Martin in the box against the Massachusetts boys.

Crews are already arriving at Philadelphia for the American League, which will be held there tomorrow. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Penn and the Navy will compete.

One of the curious things in baseball is the inx the Giants exercise on Pittsburgh. No matter how poorly McGraw's men are going, they can always step into the Pirates' lot and whip out a few victories. Their record of three straight, which they have just reeled off in Pittsburgh, is the best they have made this season.

Manager Donovan of the Yankees appears to have better luck with new pitchers than with his veterans. Culp, the Federal league graduate, won for the Yanks yesterday. Morgridge and Markle have previously turned in some superb efforts.

A boxing manager after a victory always says, "We gave that big stiff a fine trimming last night." But after a defeat he says, "My boy had a sore elbow so he lost." Why shouldn't the manager go 50-50 on defeats and victories?

MARTIN HURLS
GREAT CONTEST
AGAINST LOWELL

Lowell, Mass., May 12.—Bill Martin, the giant Bridgeport slabman who had already collected two victories this season, added another to his list yesterday when he sprinkled the whitewash on Lowell by 4 to 0. The big hurler gave the Lowell sluggers only four hits and when it is considered that Lowell has one of the heaviest hitting clubs in the league, this is great work.

Behind Martin the reconstructed Bridgeport team played sensational ball. They enthused the Lowell rooters by many good stops and also caused surprise by their attack on Zeiser, the Lowell hurler. He is a clever heaver, who recently blanked Bridgeport in an 11-inning contest. Ball's crew had no respect for him but whacked his delivery for 10 safeties, including a triple and two singles by Manager Ball. The latter also stole two bases.

Al Odell, the Southern league veteran, got into shape after his long train ride. He made the fans take notice by collecting two singles and a stolen base. Bob Thompson, the lanky first baseman, also blew himself to a couple of safeties, as did Gaudette, the fleet outfielder. Jake Boutles had only one chance at shortstop and was unable to hit safely in five times up. The old boy was spilling lots of pepper around, though. George Crook caught well, turning back the only Lowell player who tried to steal.

Bridgeport started the scoring in the fifth. Gaudette slashed a double to the right field fence and "Ball" singled. Gaudette remained on third. Odell came across with a timely jolt, bringing two men home. In the seventh there was more run making. Ball worked Zeiser for a pass and Odell was hit by a pitched ball. Thompson brought Ball over with a single and Edwards grounded to Lord. The Lowell manager made a bad throw in trying to get Thompson at second and Odell scored. The figures:

DR. DONALDSON COUNSELOR.

Dr. W. H. Donaldson of Fairfield was elected counselor of the Fairfield County Medical society at a meeting held at the Stratfield last night. Dr. Donaldson succeeds Dr. Samuel M. Garlick, the medical examiner, who resigned. Arrangements were completed for the meeting of the State Medical association which will be held here next week.

MILNE THINKS HE CAN BEAT MORAN
IN COMING SHOW

Whether they can fight or not, these New Yorkers certainly can tell how good they are. Roy Milne, who meets Kayo Moran in the 10-round semi-final of the Pastime A. O. show at the Casino next Monday night, gets the following puff from his manager:

"Milne is working like a Trojan for the contest and takes turns at working with Johnny Dundee and other well known lightweights who train at Billy Grupp's Gotham gym. Bridgeport fans can prepare to get ready to see one of New York's best in action Monday night. Milne will test Moran to the utmost limit and if the latter is all he is credited with being, it will be a slamfest from bell to bell. Moran maybe pack the kayo but it is doubtful if he packs as hefty a wallop as the Bronx bad carries in his left mitt."

George Chip, the former middleweight, champion, says he is not frightened by the boasts of Sailor Grande, who will be Chip's opponent in the 15-round star bout. Chip says the fans will hear somebody drop to the floor about 10:30 Monday night. Another good bout will be the six round affair between Young Brooks of Stamford and Young Rocco of Waterbury. Brooks has been cleaning them all up in Stamford bouts. There will be a four round opener between local boys. All boxers have posted their forfeits with Stakeholder Tom Magner so there will be no delays Monday night.

B.H.S. PLAYERS
DEFEAT NORWALK

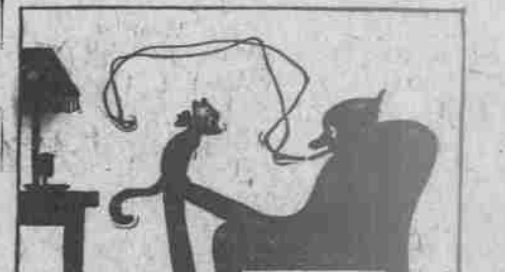

The Norwalk High school boys were unable to stop the victorious march of the B. H. S. baseball team yesterday, and the local aggregation won at Seaside park by 8 to 5. Norwalk started bravely by getting three runs but Bridgeport put the visitors down in the sixth by getting six runs.
